Winning Hurlers to Be Used in the Next Two Games---Rudolph Today

Initial Racing at New Course Proves Success in All Respects.

ATTENDANCE VERY GOOD

Getaway Program Is the Best Offered. Large Crowd Is Expected from Baltimore.

Today ends the first meeting given on the new race course of the Prince George Park, near Bowle. It has been successful beyond all expectations, notwithstanding it has had strong competition from the older track at Laurel From the day of fits opening, the attendance has shown m steady increase, due to the well-balknoed and large fields that have made up the card, each event being well balanced. The track itself is remarkably fast, which

s shown by the good time made by the horoughbreds last week. Friday's program is one that will fitfingly celebrate the end of the meeting and there will undoubtedly will be large crowds present, especially from Balti-more, which city has a half holiday, to celebrate Discoverer's Day.

There is a long distance event on to-day's card and in view of the fact that every race of this kind that has been run in the Prince George Park track has been siosely contested, the interest in these wwents has been intense. Today's race promises to be equally close. Starter Dade's work has uniformly been good. not a bad start having been made during

SMITH EXPECTED TO RECOVER USE OF LEG

Brooklyn, Oct. 11.-Ray photos of Red Smith's broken right leg were taken today and showed that the original diagnosis of Drs. Casey and Kennedy was correct. The fibula was found fractured and the tible broken and split. The laceration of the tendons over the ankle may prove even more serious than the broken bones.

Dr. Casey expects Smith to recover the full use of his leg. He basing his hopes largely on the analogous case, of Harry Lumley, the Brooklyn player who broke his ankle here eight or no permanent ill effects. Lumley is still playing baseball. Stallings Plans to Win Series with Victorious Hurlers in Four Straight Games.

By FRANK G. MENKE.

the world's series in four straight game with the use of only two pitchers-feat that has never been accomplished. From out of the insane babble in this baseball-crazed town tonight comes the tip from the Braves' camp that Stallings will huri Dick Rudolph back at the Athletics Monday and will work Bill James, the two-hit hero of Saturday's battle, against the Athletics on Tuesday.

Stallings is confident that his two star twirlers will recuperate sufficiently from their recent labors to work at top speed in the next two battles.

kid pitchers tomorrow and if he does the edge ought to be in favor of Rudelph.
If Rudelph wins that will give us three straight. Then James will work on Tuesday for the fourth straight game. Should either James or Rudolph lose one of these games it would make the count three to one in our favor. Then we could send in Tyler. If George lost the count would still be in our favor, three to two, and we'd have James and Rudolph in reserve angle that you wish. If Rudolph works tomorrow and James Tuesday it will mean that they will have had only a two days' rest, but they are used to pliching every third day. If they worked less they might get stale."

Before the game had progressed very far it could be seen that the winners held the "kids" too cheaply, the climax coming when Kinty, the lightning little end, recovered a fumble and raced 40 worked little more than half a game Fri-

Lugi Thornett, the former Eastern High school star, proved to be the only consistent ground gainer for the winners, gailoping around the ends time and again for long gains of from 20 to 40 yards.

Will Work Tyler.

The "wise-ones" have it figured out that Stallings will work George Tyler, his southpaw, against the Athletics to-morrow, if Confie Mack uses one of his youngsters, but the Braves' tipster says that Stallings present plan, which it is unlikely he will change, calls for an exactly opposite plan.

Connie Mack may pitch Chief Bender again tomorrow, but the chances are that he will use one of his youngsters, either Shawkey or Bush. Shawkey has made a better showing than Bush has this year, but "Bullet Joe" is a world series veteran and Connie might count that in his fewer is absorber.

Bender declared tonight that he was in fine shape and ready to go back at the Braves at any time. The beating that the Indian got Friday hasn't disheart-ened him. He feels that it was just some sort of accident. And he hungers for revenge.

ENORMOUS CROWDS WITNESSED WORLD'S SERIES GAMES BETWEEN THE BRAVES AND ATHLETICS

The demand for tickets for the championship baseball games in Philadelphia were such that crowds formed in line to get the covered pasteboards thirty-six hours before the box office was opened. When the games started owners of houses across the street sold seats they had erected on their houses. The capacity of Shibe Park was not searly enough to accommodate those dealring to see the games. George Whitted, center fielder for the Braves, had the "clean-up" position in the batting order.
